TRADITIONAL TRADES APPRENTICESHIP PROGRAM
PROGRAM MESSAGING

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION
Apply for the National Park Service’s Traditional Trades Apprenticeship Program
Become a member of a small team, working to preserve historic buildings and structures in our national parks – apply for the Traditional Trades Apprenticeship Program (TTAP)! TTAP provides a six-month, immersive experience for veterans to learn from historic preservation leaders, developing skills and knowledge to enter the workforce, while preserving traditional trades and addressing critical maintenance projects within our national parks. This program is a good fit for you if:

• You are a post 9/11 military veteran under 35 years old.
• You want to work hard and don't mind getting your hands dirty.
• You love to work either in the great outdoors or on restoring older structures.
• A career in carpentry, masonry, or historic preservation sounds exciting to you.
• You're a self-starter, work well in teams, and know the importance of safety-first!

TTAP is currently recruiting for apprenticeships which will commence in April 2019. Learn more about TTAP and start your application today by visiting the program website.
